Through the past twelve years you have guided us, held your tempers, and listened to our excuses.

The little things such as: forgiving our tardiness, excusing us from class for acceptable reasons, being patient when our lessons were poorly prepared, expressing confidence in us have been an important part of our education which you have helped us to acquire.

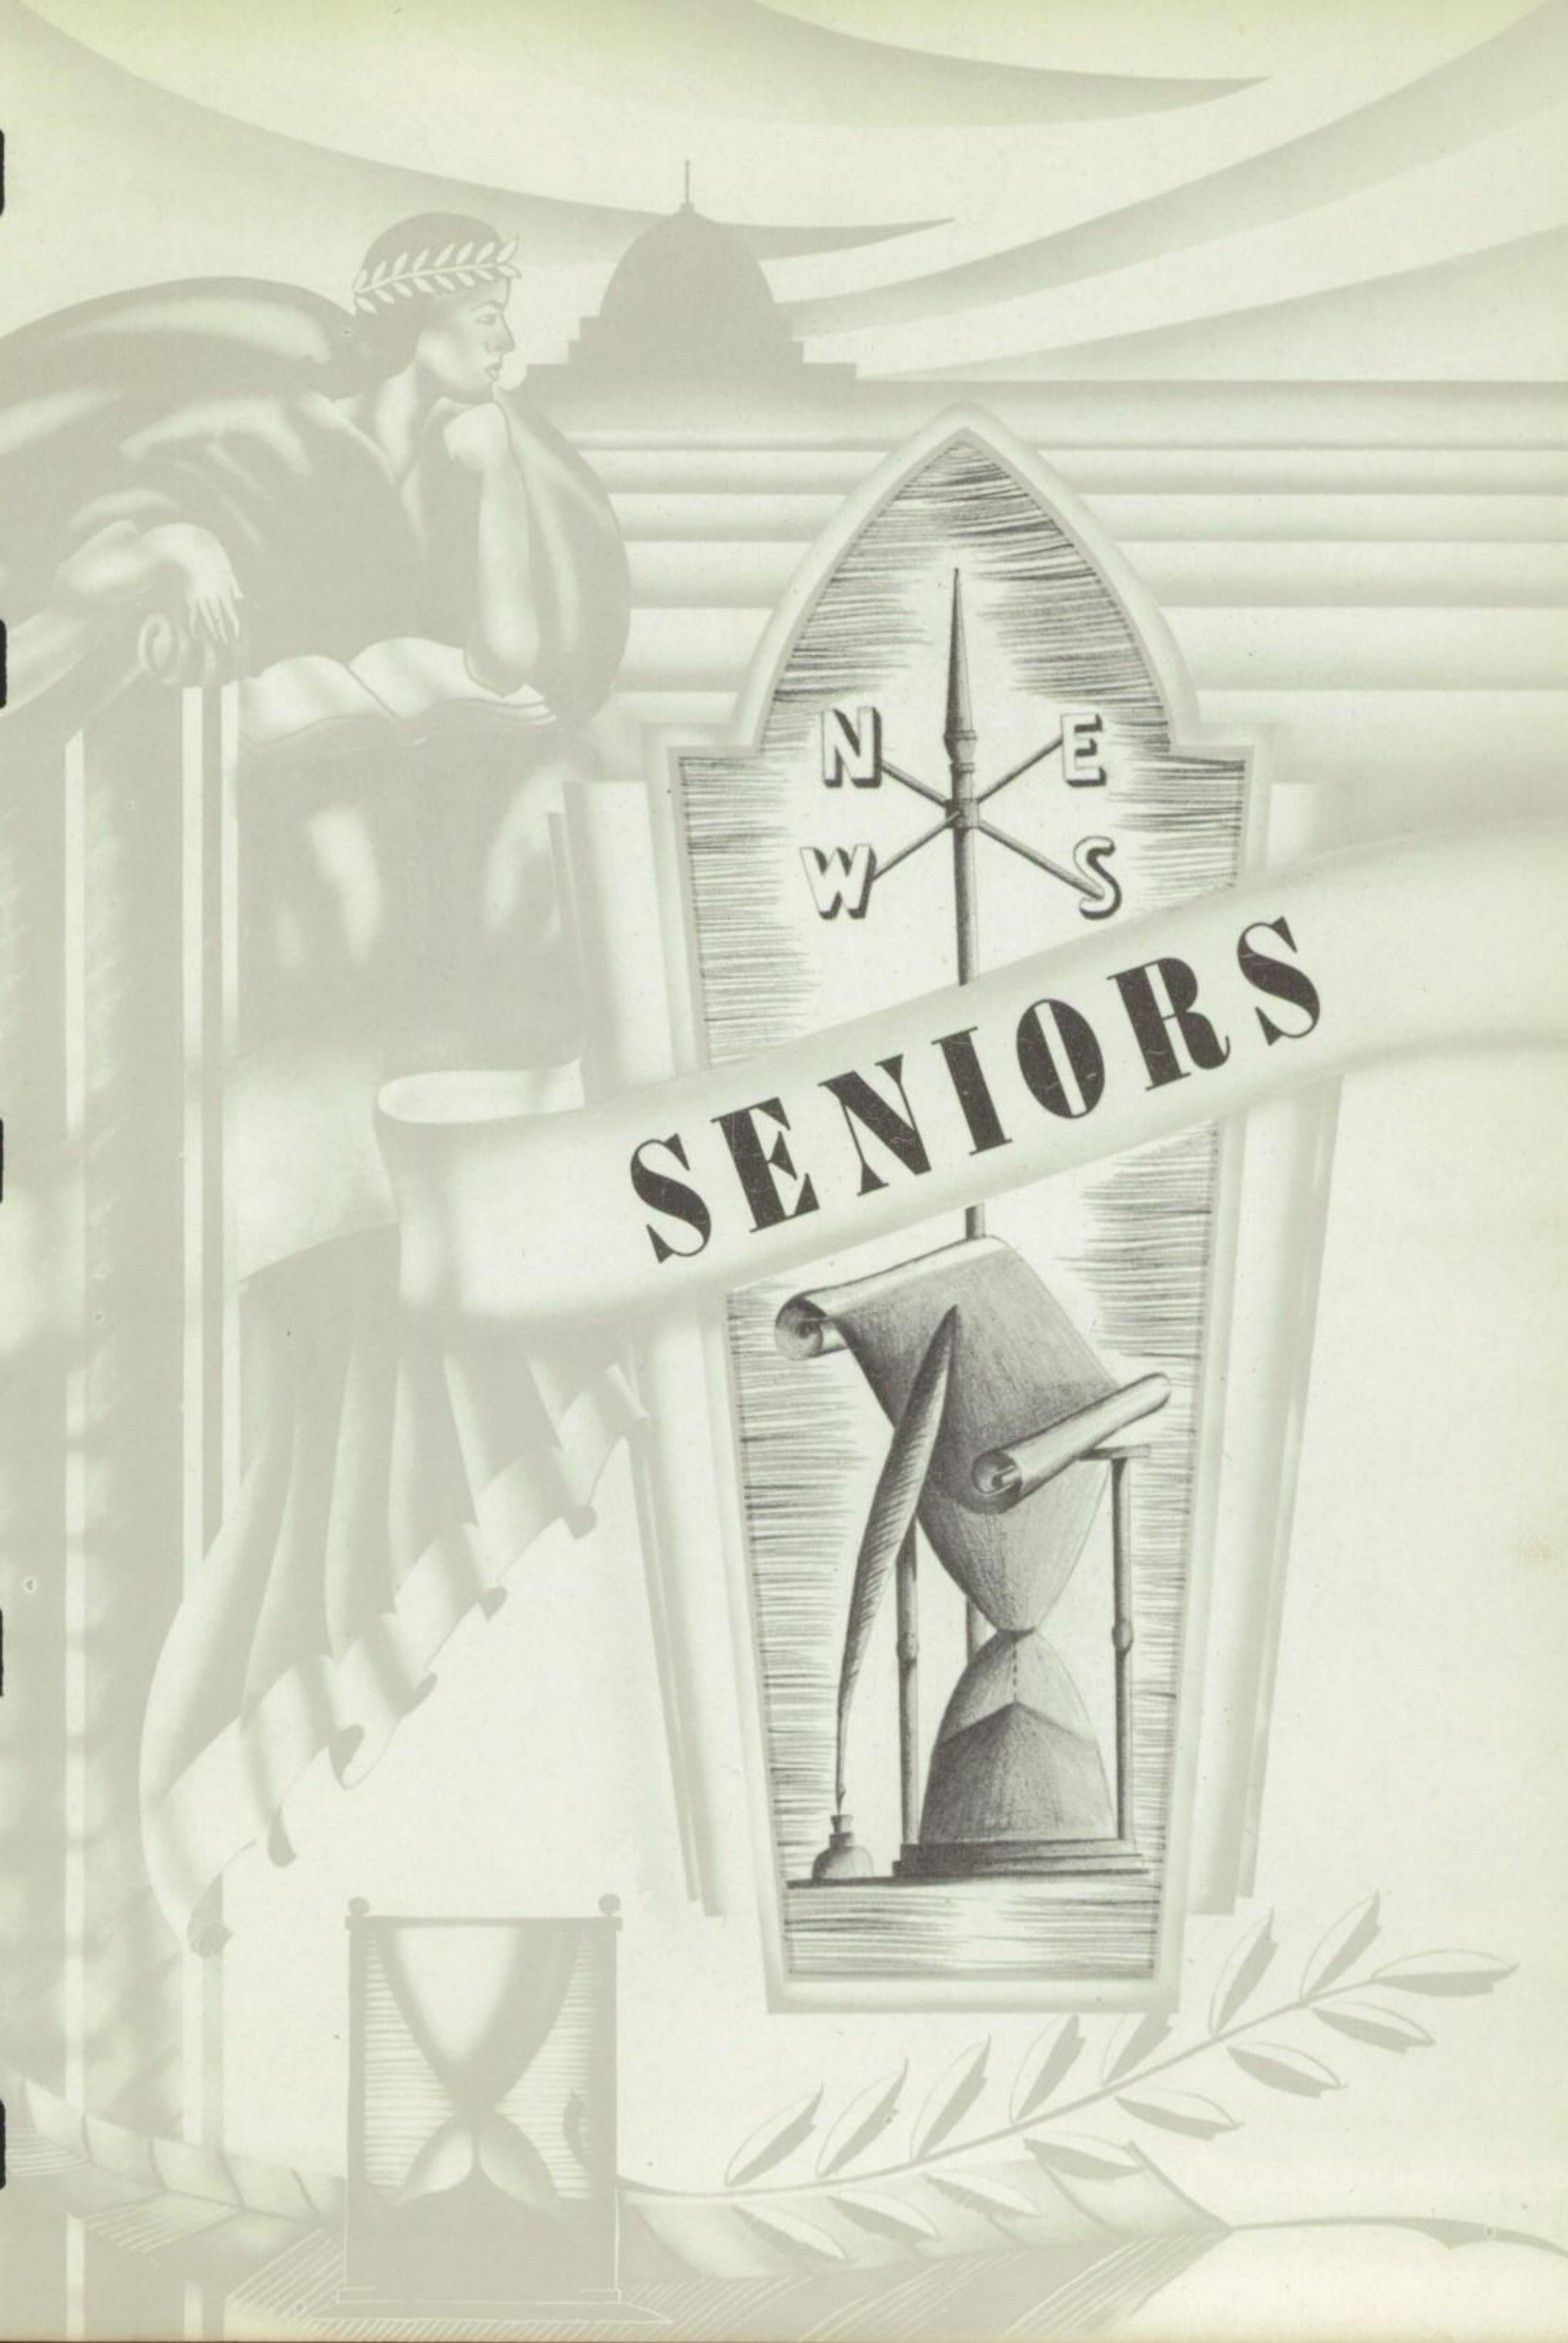

You and our education have become synonymous. We dedicate this year book as a token of our thanks and appreciation to you--OUR FACULTY.

In 1941 the class of '53 enrolled in the first grade. Our teacher this trying year was Mrs. Simpson who made our work as plessent as possible. After much struggling on everyone's part we succeeded in moving on to the second grade.

This year our teacher was Mrs. Rhodes. This year we were blessed with two new classmates, Nadine Lowery and R. L. Murphy. Did I say blessed???

In the fall we moved upstairs to the third grade. Miss Cline, our teacher, tried to teach us something and sometimes she succeeded. Or did she???

In the fourth grade Mrs. Fessell was our teacher. This year the girls began to think the boys weren't such bad characters after all. Anne Laughlin left us this year but returned in the sixth grade.

Mrs. Jessie Bloom was our fifth grade teacher for the first half of the year but had to leave because of sickness in the family. Mrs. David Kotterman resumed the responsibility of educating us the last half of the year.

The sixth grade ended the first half of our school days. Miss Colvin, our teacher, enchanted us with her storying telling which no one has forgotten. Shirley Swartz entered our class at the beginning of this year.

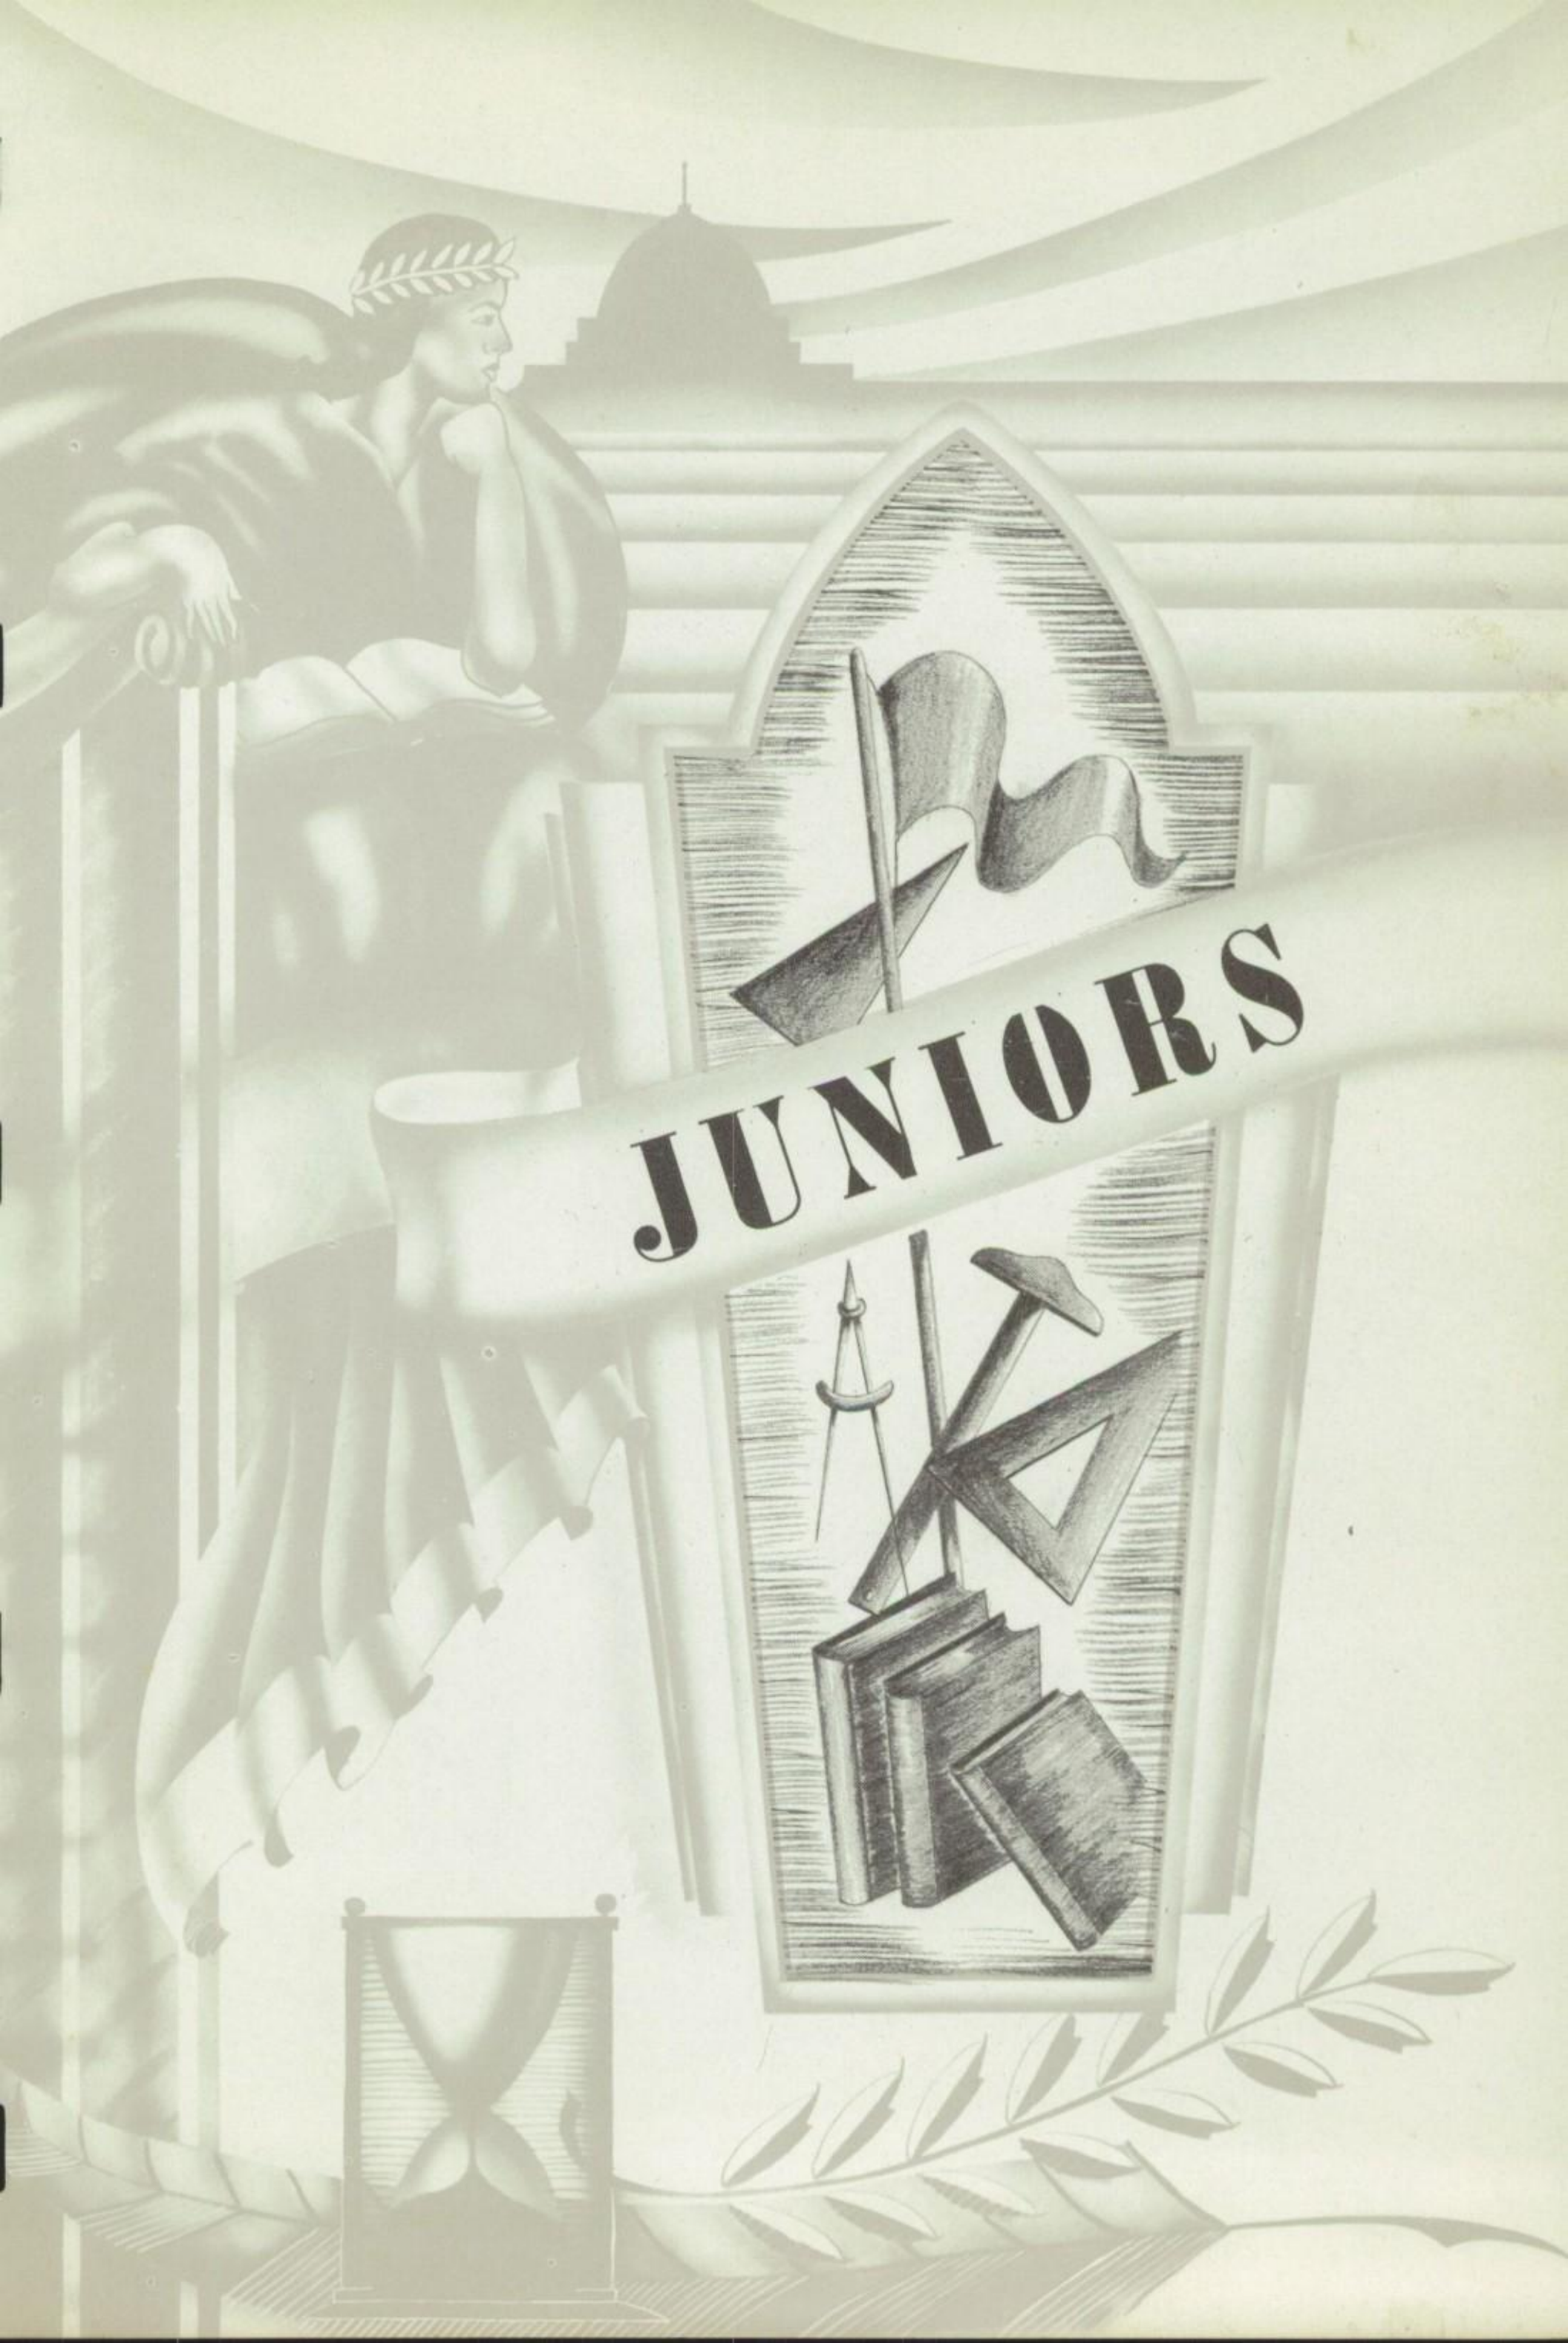

At last we were in Junior high and D I D we feel big. Of course, the older students didn't even notice us but we felt as though we had accomplished a big fete by being in the High School building. Two more of our present classmates joined us this year, they were Russ Brown and Jim Patterson.

On to the eighth grade and then High School. Now we were in the last stretch and were Freshman. The Sophomores had a delightful time initiating us. Secretly tho' we enjoyed it very much. This year began our money making business for our eventual Senior trip. We sold popcorn at all the basketball games and made quite a bit of money. Sometimes we ate more than we sold however. This year brought us another one of our present members, Bonnie Rockhold.

Our Sophomore year we had a new home room teacher, Mr. Leindecker. To add more money to our treasury we sold magazines and were pretty successful. Then we tried our hand at the dry good business but it didn't turn out so good. We finally finished selling all these dry goods this year. Phyllis Guthrie from Beliefontaine joined our class this year.

Miss Chew was with us again our Junior year after a years absence. This year we really added to our Senior trip fund. We sold refreshments at the football and basketball games, and later in the year we sold magazines. In the spring we presented our Junior Play "The Perfect Idiot" and also helped the Seniors with their minstral. We held the Junior and Senior banquet in the newly completed cafeteria and gymnasium. We invited many talented entertainers in for the program following the dinner.

SENIORS SO MIGHTY! Yes we finally made it with the help of many understanding teachers and parents. This year we all worked very hard to get enough money for the long awaited Senior trip to Washington and New York. In the fall we presented the Senior Minstral which was quite a sucess, thanks to the directing of Mrs. Moore and Mr. Sollars. We also planned a Senior Play but this will be ready for the press before we decide on the type of play we are going to present. Thanks to Mr. Sollars, our homeroom teacher and advisor, this year proved very sucessful.

The background of the cover is a complex, layered illustration. At the top left, a classical statue of a woman with a laurel wreath is depicted. Behind her is a large, domed building. A central, arched frame contains a stylized flame or smoke rising from a small oil lamp. Below this, a rectangular frame displays scientific equipment: a microscope, a round-bottom flask on a stand, and a book. At the bottom left, there is an hourglass. A laurel branch curves across the bottom right. A large, flowing banner cuts across the middle of the page, bearing the word 'SOPHOMORES' in a bold, serif font.

FOOTBALL

The old superstition "Third time is the charm" proved true for the 1952 Eagles football squad. A squad of 5 Senior, 4 Juniors, 4 Sophmores, and 5 Freshman went through the year undefeated in 8 games. The scores were as follows:

Belle Center	42	Lewistown	18
Belle Center	34	West Liberty	14
Belle Center	52	Rushsylvania	32
Belle Center	58	East Liberty	12
Belle Center	37	Huntsville	0
Belle Center	34	Lakeview	14
Belle Center	42	Zanesfield	6

The community of Belle Center showed much enthusiasm by honoring the squad with suppers and banquets at different times throughout the season, and also by attending the games regularly.

Our basketball team had a wonderful record this season. They were co-champions in the county tournament. This gave them the right to go to the district tournament at Springfield. Their opponents Franklin-Monroe from Dark County won the game at Springfield in a double over-time. The score was 55 to 53, a real heart breaker.

Declamation

Each year the Ohio Council of Churches sponsors a "Prince of Peace" Contest. Students who wish to participate memorize a prepared declamation and give it in a local church. The local winner competes in a county contest and the county winners advance to the district contest. The district winners then give their speeches at the Ohio Pastor's Convention, where the state champion is selected.

There were four contestants in the local contest, which was held November 9, 1952 in the First Presbyterian Church. They were Shirley Swartz, a senior, Audrey Baughman and Judie Bates, sophomores, and Nancy Chamberlin, a Freshman. Shirley Swartz was judged the winner, with Nancy Chamberlin as alternate. Shirley received a bronze medal and then competed in the county contest at the Church of Christ in Bellefontaine.

F F A

The F. F. A. during the past year sponsored a scrap drive and with the proceeds bought the blinds for the auditorium and agriculture study room. The chapter has also rented the land owned by the Belle Center Creamery, northeast of town, for farming this year. They will run experiments and test plots on different crops which should be of local interest.

F H A

The F. H. A. was organized under the supervision of Mrs. Hemminger in September 1950. We now have 36 members that are enrolled or have been in Home Economics.

The motto for all F. H. A. organizations throughout America is "Toward New Horizons". The national colors are red and white, the flower is the red rose.

For the first time the local chapter has celebrated national F. H. A. Week, during the week of November 2 to the 9. We conducted an assembly, had a county rally, sponsored a 50-50 dance, and also a no "gripe" no "grudge" day to which prizes were given to the winning classes. The girls in F. H. A. also wore the colors one day.

The theme for the local F. H. A. for the coming year is "Homemaking Training Today Brings Happier Homes Tomorrow."
